

CORONAVIRUS UPDATE

A Closed Business

The coronavirus continues to spread around the world. Many people in the U.S. have had the coronavirus. The coronavirus spreads from person to person. Some people become very sick when they have the coronavirus. Some states are closing some businesses to help stop the spread of the coronavirus. These states include Texas, Florida, California and Arizona. Some cities are requiring people to wear face masks inside businesses. They hope wearing face masks will help stop the spread too. Many cities still encourage people to practice social distancing and stay at least six feet away from others.
