REAL NEWS.
Real conversations.

CREATE CONVERSATIONS and drive achievement

For 25 years, conversations sparked by News2you have been providing millions of unique learners with access to the world around them. Wherever they are learning, students read high-interest informational text, play purposeful current events games, learn about careers and places around the world—all while meeting ELA standards for speaking, listening, reading, and writing. But perhaps most of all, News2you gives unique learners a real sense of belonging and a meaningful connection to their peers and families.

CREATE MEANINGFUL REAL-WORLD CONNECTIONS

Broaden horizons with high-interest nonfiction and build the essential skills for participating in today's conversations and tomorrow's world.

ENRICH INSTRUCTION WITH DIFFERENTIATED CONTENT

Meet unique learners, struggling readers, and English language learners at their age-appropriate levels with captivating current events content.

BUILD LANGUAGE AND LITERACY SKILLS

Boost daily literacy development with a wealth of rich activities connected to the week's issue.

Create MEANINGFUL real-world CONNECTIONS

We all need to connect with the world around us, to place our lives and our personal stories into the larger context. News2you helps unique learners begin to find their own place and provides them with the communication tools and critical-thinking skills to make lasting connections with their peers and families.

MEET STANDARDS WITH HIGH-INTEREST NONFICTION

Reach students anywhere they're learning with relevant current events topics and texts just right for their levels. Readers find so much to read and enjoy with topics like Super Nintendo World, Gitanjali Rao's New Book, NFL Is 100!, and much more.

HELP STUDENTS MAKE THE SCHOOL-TO-HOME CONNECTION

Watch students make personal connections as they interview each other for Class News—a fun, collaborative process for generating their own custom newspapers. Those papers spark meaningful discussions about community and world events at home, where students can also access all of their News2you content and activities using Student View.

DISCUSS REAL-LIFE EVENTS

Give them the knowledge to join in or start conversations based on Breaking News stories, presented with or without symbol support.

INTRODUCE NEW PLACES AND PROFESSIONS

Transport students around the world with Let's Go! point-of-view videos in Joey's Locker, and introduce careers with Spotlight books—all tied to the week's issue.

ENRICH INSTRUCTION

with differentiated content

Differentiation and accessibility are at the heart of News2you. When students sign into Student View at school or at home, they automatically see content at their individualized, age-appropriate levels with accessibility supports tailored to their specific needs!

GET INTERACTIVE WITH TOPICAL ROUTINES

Start each morning with a discussion about current weather conditions. Then students dress their own character based on their observations—one of many ways News2you helps build key life skills on the way to independence.

CUSTOMIZE WITH ACCESSIBILITY OPTIONS

Give everyone access to the events that shape their world with text to speech, highlighting, adjustable reading speed, the option to hide and show symbols, and a text-only version for students using screen readers or CCTV.

REACH ALL STUDENTS, INCLUDING ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNERS

Provide individualized access to learning through four levels. Each student sees content at just the right level when they sign into Student View ready to learn!

The Advanced Edition offers expanded text and details with large, colorful photos with captions.

The Higher Edition takes paragraph form with symbol supports.

The Regular Edition shows symbol-supported text with clear, concise sentence structure.

The Simplified Edition uses landscape presentation with symbol supports for each sentence.

BUILD LANGUAGE

and literacy skills

The issue-based current events activities in News2you are intentionally designed to help boost daily literacy skills, from basic awareness of symbols and print to reading fluently with comprehension. And research has proven that students who have access to news are higher achievers.

CHOOSE FROM DOZENS OF
INTERACTIVE,
DIFFERENTIATED NEW WEEKLY ACTIVITIES

- Strengthen vocabulary with six new games every week.
- Help students appreciate and understand different forms of writing: narrative, expository, and descriptive.
- Boost spelling achievement with crossword puzzles.
- Reinforce the concepts and themes of each weekly edition.
- ... plus many more purposeful activities to use wherever they fit in your day!

EXPAND LITERACY, VOCABULARY, AND COMPREHENSION

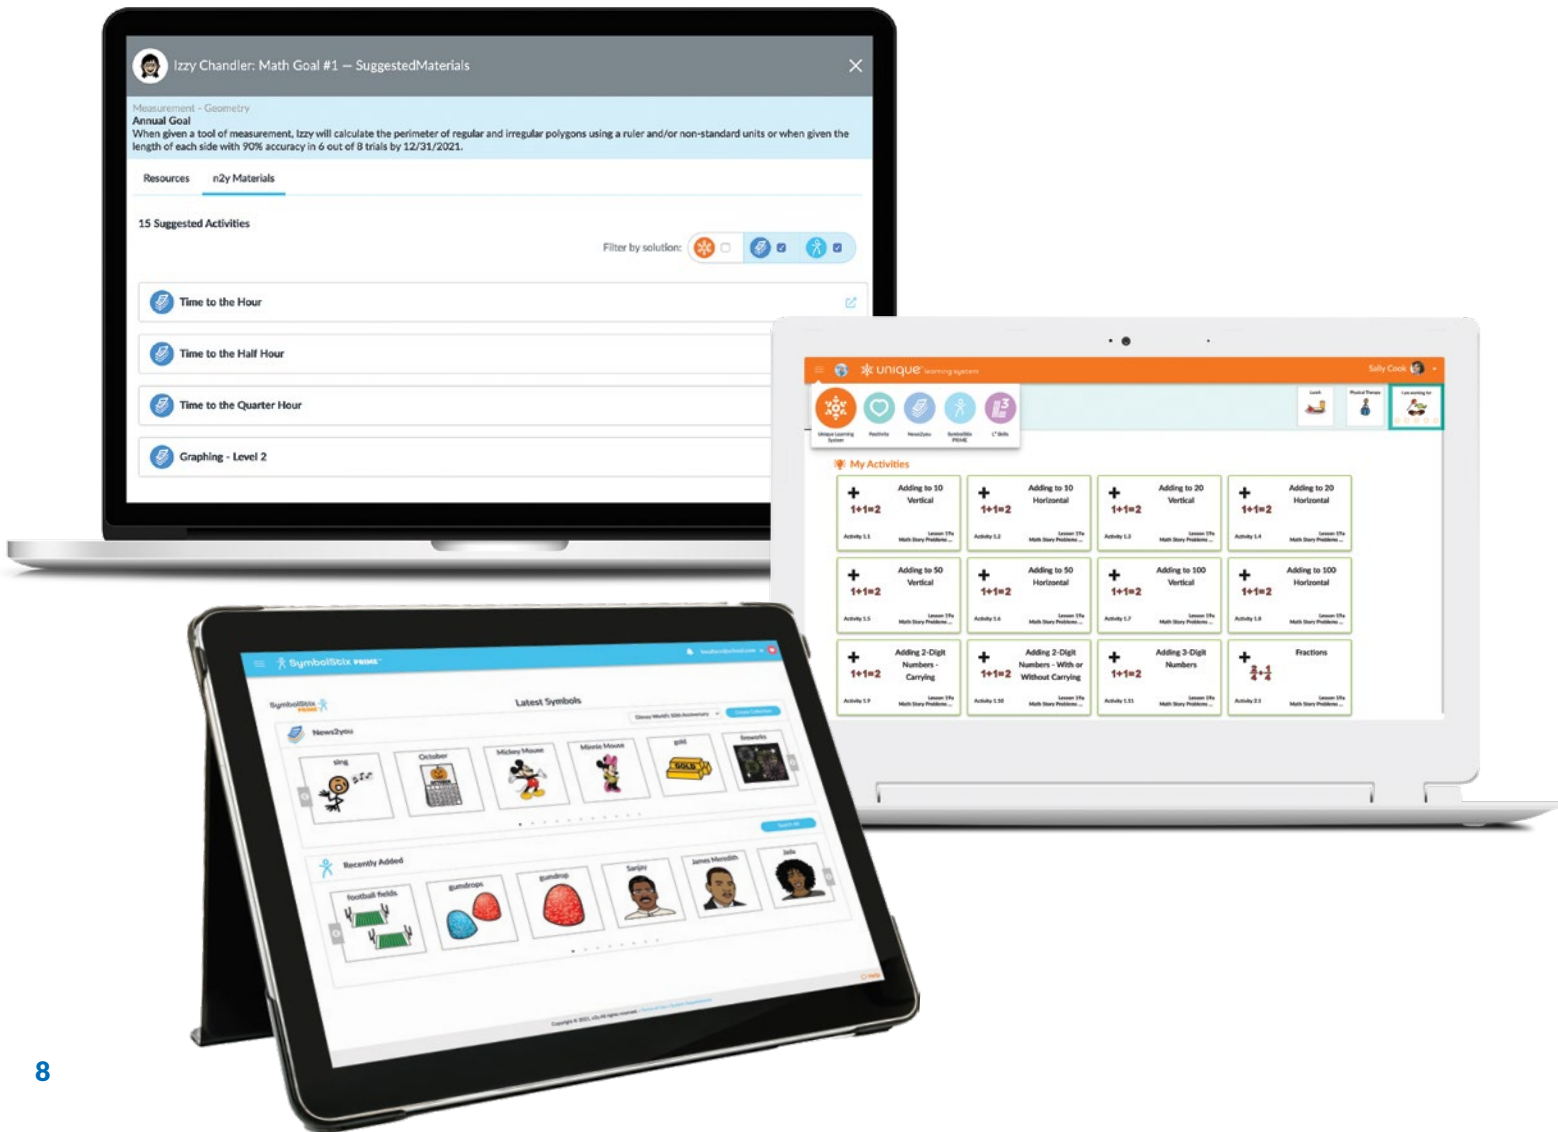

News2you is so much more than just a newspaper! Use it to demonstrate various styles of clear writing, expand vocabulary, build comprehension, introduce short nonfiction readings, ask “Wh” questions about the weekly topic, explore cross-curricular content, and strengthen digital literacy.

MAXIMIZE ENGAGEMENT

with n2y's Total Solution

Enhancing consistency and ease of use, News2you is integrated with n2y's special education solution, offering powerful support that unifies the entire education team. Content connects among the current events covered in News2you, monthly lessons in Unique Learning System®, and games in L<sup>3</sup> Skills®, and recommendations in Polaris. Assignments for all n2y solutions are visible in Student View. And the dynamic symbols in SymbolStix PRIME® encourage consistent communication throughout every solution.
